Japanese American Redress Verification System (JARVIS), Public Use Version

General Records of the Department of Justice (Record Group 60)

SUPPLEMENTAL USER NOTE

In 2016, in response to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request in for reproduction of the Japanese American Redress Verification System (JARVIS) data and documentation files, a review was conducted of certain data files within the JARVIS series of records that include information exempt from released under the FOIA(b)(6) Personal Information. After completing the review it was determined that two files could be revised into public use files with additional fields released.

In a subsequent review of the files in 2021, staff also identified 19 records that include what appear to be social security numbers in the “Country” field in the file containing address information. Staff revised the public use version for this file to mask the specific information that is exempt under the FOIA in the identified records.

ADDRESS.2021.PU.txt

In this data file, the following fields are masked with “X”:

- Address1
- Address2
- City
- Home Phone
- Work Phone

Staff also masked some information that may consist of social security numbers in the “Country” field for 19 records with “X” in order to protect personal privacy.

The Zip Code field is released in the new public use version.

PEOPLE.2016.PU.txt (XMIS #091899)

In this data file, the following fields are masked with “X”:

- Last name
- First name
- Date of birth

The record layouts documented in the JARVIS agency documentation do not always exactly match the record layout in the header row of the data files. Specifically, data elements listed in the documentation may not be in the data file. The Archival Electronic Inspection and Control (AERIC) record layouts created from the header row are included in the NARA documentation, following this supplemental user note.

USER NOTE

System and/or File Title: Japanese American Redress Verification System (JARVIS), Public Use Version

Records of the Department of Justice (Record Group 60)

Background

This accession includes 21 data files and 24 documentation files. The files are caret delimited ( ^ ) and enclosed by tilde ( ~ ).

JARVIS was used by the agency as two systems: JARVIS and JARVIS 2. The original JARVIS matched contact information from potential recipients with other government data in order to determine the validity of a potential recipient's claim. This system was migrated to JARVIS 2 to make it Year 2000 (Y2K) compliant. JARVIS 2 includes the records of Japanese Americans and Japanese Latin Americans whose cases were active at the time the system was migrated. Collectively the system is referred to herein as JARVIS.

This public use version of JARVIS does not include personally identifying data elements such as names, birthdates, addresses, and Social Security Number, although it does include the DOJ number. The Agency Documentation, Public Use Version Database Table and Schema (folders 3 and 4) includes the list of tables and data elements in the Public Use version.

Documentation

The primary documentation for the data file Japanese American Redress Verification System (JARVIS), Public Use version consists of the manuals that are included with the Restricted version of JARVIS, which are filed under NN3-060-06-015. This documentation consists of the System Design Manuals, the User Manual, and the User's Guide.

These records consist of data files and documentation files. The data table files are described in the agency documentation, JARVIS System Design Manual, Database Description section (Restricted Version documentation folder 3). The documentation files provide the definitions for coded values in the data files. The agency documentation, JARVIS 2 System Design Manual (Restricted Version documentation folder 4) identifies the relationship between specific documentation and data files.

The record layouts documented in the JARVIS System Design Manual do not always match exactly the record layout in the header row of the data files. Specifically, data elements listed in the documentation may not be in the data file. The Archival Electronic Inspection and Control (AERIC) record layouts created from the header row are included in the NARA documentation (folder 1).

Some data elements seem to require definitions but the agency documentation does not provide any. The following table identifies data elements with coded values for which no documentation or definitions exist, and the data files in which they are found.

| Data Element | Data File                         |

Additionally, automated data verification determined that the data elements with HEIR in the title are not all defined by the same documentation file. The following table identifies the data elements, the range of values found in the data, and the associated documentation file that applies to two of the data elements:

Automatic Data Verification

The data files were automatically verified using the Archival Electronic Records Inspection and Control (AERIC) utility. As explained above, these records are from separate JARVIS and JARVIS 2 systems, each having distinct but duplicative documentation files. In some of the documentation file code lists, the meaning of the coded value has more than one field for the definition. In order to facilitate automatic verification, NARA staff created code lists using the documentation files for both JARVIS and JARVIS 2, and which were appropriate for employing AERIC code list verification. These code lists are included in the NARA Documentation (folder 2).

Data

Minor discrepancies were identified during automatic verification. Many data elements include null values. The explanations of other discrepancies are listed below according to data file.
